EPILEPSY WARNING

I – Precautions to take at all times when playing computer games

- Do not play if you are tired or lacking sleep.
- Always play in a well lit room, and ensure that the screen brightness level is not too high.
- If you are playing a game on a screen, play at a reasonable distance from the screen and as far back from it as the connector cable will reach.
- While you are playing, ensure you take a 10-15 minute break every hour.

II – Epilepsy warning

Certain individuals have a condition which may cause them to experience epileptic fits and which could also include loss of consciousness, particularly when exposed to certain types of strong light stimuli, such as a rapid succession of images, repetition of simple geometrical shapes, flashes or explosions. These individuals may experience fits while playing computer games containing such visual stimuli even though they may have no previous medical history of such a condition or may never have suffered an epileptic fit. If you or a member of your family have ever experienced symptoms linked to epilepsy (fits or loss of consciousness) in situations of strong light stimuli, please consult your doctor before playing any computer games. Parents should also monitor their children closely when they are playing computer games. If you or your child show any symptoms of the following: dizziness, disturbed vision, eye or muscle twitching, disorientation, involuntary movement, convulsions or blackouts, you should stop playing immediately and seek medical advice.

THE STORY

Long ago, magic pervaded the world and faeries lived among Men. They inspired countless tales and myths – it was an age of legends.

From the Isle of Avalon, King Oberon reigned over a population as diverse as the dreams of Men, and every land whirred with the sound of faery wings.

But Man began to doubt the Faery Kingdom and, little by little, dismissed it as childish, or demonic.

Man eventually retreated into a daily routine in which magic had no place. So Oberon decided to remove his people to enclaves on the edges of the human world. And the faeries became no more to them than age-old memories existing only in fairy tales and the works of poets and visionaries.

But when the magic left the world, the Faery Kingdoms began disappearing one by one. Until one day when...

CHARACTER EDITOR

Do you want to be a faery or would you rather be an elf?

Faery: Legends of Avalon allows you to choose and most of all personalize the avatar you would like to use in the greatest detail.

Choose the gender of your character, the face type you would like from the different types available and change its attributes (skin color, hairstyle, hair color, etc).

You can also make more advanced modifications to your character's face; whether to the eyes, the cheeks, the ears, the nose or even the mouth... create a character that looks like you!

Click on "Finalize", choose a name for your character and start your quest to save Avalon.
